

Using the Design API

Release 4.1.0 brought significant work to the design API for ODA. This enables a lot of programmatic access to managing a data NSF. It is designed for CRUD access to the design of an NSF that is being used as a data repository for an XPages, JavaScript or Java application. The pages below this talk about how to manage specific parts of the process.